

13th Sept 2017

Ref: Looking for an applications developer

We are looking for a qualified Application Developer to design and code functional programs and applications.

These applications will be connected and integrated to multifunctional printers to provide clients with enhanced office imaging capabilities.

This will be achieved by being an active member of the developer support program directly with the manufacturer who will provide all the API's and the software development kit to make sure that the developer is able to make applications which can communicate and embed on to multifunctional printers.

For further information kindly contact the below person:

Vishal Shah

Head of Technical

Email: vishal@expauto.com

Mob: +254735666999